Farm and Garden.

Plant memorial trees on the birthdays nd you will have a monument of beauty in every tree. Wood ashes and plaster make an excellent fertilizer for all kinds of grass crops, and should be freely used. Raspberries throw up a great many suckers, and these should be thinned out, leaving not over four four canes to the bill, so as to afford plenty of

We need to study the babits of insects nore. Nearly all the insects which injure the farmer and fruit 'grower have their parasites, which would keep the enemy in check if properly encourag-

The practice of pegging down eyerblooming roses so that they will cover completely the surface of the bed is known to produce very pleasant results. It is said "that pegging down dahilas proves quite satisfactory.

In breeding stock on the farm do not be tempted to seil the best, but di-pose of the inferior animals first. By caretully selecting and retaining the best every year, the value of the stock will be increased and larger profits se-

The last month or so of a pig's life has a great influence upon the flesh of the animal. You can put on the frame all through the year, but the flavor is largely determined by the feeding dur my the latter period of fattening. The ame is true of all animals.

Mustard plants used to be the terror and disgust of the California wheat grower. Now they are a source of profit. By ingenious mechanical harvesting both crops are gathered separately, and the mustard is worth more than the wheat on the same land.

An Indian farmer finds that it is an advantage to mix bluegrass seed and other light grass seed with moist sawdust before sowing. He says the grass seed adheres to the sawdust, and enables the sower to spread it evenly. He uses about three bushels of sawdust to one of grass seed The chief advantage of incubators con-ists in the eircum-tance that eggs may be hatched in them before fowls show a disposition to sit on eggs. The ergs of ducks can be harched in incubators to the most advantage, as early ducks of improved varieties sell at high prices in large towns.

If Farmers who have never tried t will cut their corn fodder and straw finely for their cattle, they will be surprised to notice how much better the stock will eat them, and how much further the same amount of fodder with go than when fed whole. A tittle sprink ling of meal does not injure it in the Many Diseases of swine are contagious, and when an animal is observed to be sick it should be removed from the pen and placed by itself. It would be just as well to keep a watchful eye on the balance. Clean out the pers and troughs, scrape out all decaying matter from under and around them and use some disinfectant.

A good bint for growing cucumbers, squashes of similar plants, is to put sawdust or rotten wood about them. Those who have never tried encumbers on strong, bushy stakes like pea sticks will be surprised to note how they enjoy it. Tomatoes do better trained to stont stakes than in any other way. The raspberry, gooselerry and currant, especially the latter, thrive with applications of rotten wood.

In the reports of several dairy farms of Denmark, in the vicinity of Copenhagen, we note that the yield of each cow is regularly weighed, and the excellent average of 900 gallons per cow is quite general. When a cow falls be low 750 gailons per annum she is led off at once for the butcher A liberal system of feeding prevails and the amount of mik required for a pound of butter varies from twenty-four to twenty-seven pounds, or about 250 to 300 pounds of butter per cow.

Ponds are not good for young ducks Wet grass, dampness and cold sleeping places will kill young ducks as quickly as such influences will destroy young chicks. Feed the ducks on bulky food. Cooked turn ps and potatoes thickened with oat meal make a cheap and good food for them. Give them plenty of water to drink, but not to bathe in until the down is off and the feathers cover the body. Then you may let them enjoy themselves in the water as much as they desire.

Dwarf pears should be planted on a spot that has a moist subsoil, either na tural or made so by subsoiling or mixing some material with the soil that will give out moisture in dry weather. Trees already planted on a dry, gravelly subsoil should have a circle dug out two feet deep and two or three feet from the tree. This should be fitted up with well-enrichened soil. If the dwarf pear does not grow freely it is a sign that something is wrong It should be severely pruned, so as to aid in producing a vigorous growth.

As a superb hair dressing and renovator, Ayer's Hair Vigor is universally commended It eradicates scurf and dandruff, cures eruptions and itenings of the scalp, promotes renewed growth of the hair, and prevents its fading or turning gray.

Whatever farming may have been in the past, the time has come when the highest intelligence is demanded as necessary qualification on the part of the agriculturist. That is to say, pace must be kept with the spirit of the times that has developed fully as much in agricultural machinery as in other departments'of industry New and improved seeds and plants must also be looked after, else the tarmer will be left in the lurch

P. R R. They have a very fine and elegant depot built of stone. I do not want the people of Holt county to think that the whole of Kansas is like that I have tried to describe to them, but I wish to say that the good land is in streaks, separated by land that is very poor. Sometimes the streaks of good land will extend twenty five or thirty miles, and again it will be very narrow, only four or five miles. Indeed, we have been traveling over the very finest of soil, from two to three feet deep, and all at once strike perfectly white sand that would not last for more than fifteen or twenty ro.ls when we would again strike good soil. We also found streaks of a reddish soil. It would, however, be very narrow, and is said to be a good producing soil.

Hoping the reader will kindly overlook all mistakes and try to resp some benefit from this letter, and if not too tired by the time you have perused this, will write again in a few week-, as I expect to travel all summer, and will write description of new territory next Yours Truly,
